DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restriction

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- Group I. Claims 30-37 drawn to a MODU jacking system including continuous linear motion motors, classified in class 405, subclass 196.
- Group II. Claims 1-21 and 23-29 drawn to a jacking system and method for jacking a MODU platform without interruption, classified in class 405, subclass 198.
- Group III. Claim 22 drawn to a method of manufacturing a MODU jacking system by selecting a number of toothed rack, classified in class 73, subclass 786.

2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions of Group I-II and Group III are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions of Group I-II and III respectively are the system and method of jacking the MODU platform by using the continuous motion motors and the manufacturing method by selecting the number of toothed racks and manufacturing supporting legs, toothed racks and fastening the hydraulic piston/cylinder units to the toothed rack, etc.

Inventions of Group I and Group II are related as combination and subcombination.

Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed because the subcombination requires, among other things, a plurality of piston/cylinder units, a source of hydraulic pressure and toothed rack engagement member with a compression springs, etc. The electric motors with toothed pinion gears can be used as the linear motion motors in the jacking system.

3. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification and the search required for Group I, II and III, respectively is not required one another, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

4. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Jong-Suk (James) Lee whose telephone number is (703) 308-6777.
